THREAT OF TRANSIT STRIKE IN NEW YORK IS CALLED OFF

WEEK RESPITE IN PITTSBURGH WAGE DISPUTE

Power Suspension Threatening Blackout In Giant Industrial Area Is Delayed

ACTION IS DRAMATIC

Pittsburgh, Feb. 26.—(P)—A power strike which threatened a blackout in an 817 square mile area of industrial Pittsburgh and its environs was averted last night less than a half hour before it was to have gone into effect.

A one-week postponement—until 12:01 a. m., Tuesday, March 5—was announced by President George L. Mueller of the Independent Union of Duquesne Light Company employees.

The union, with a membership of 3,400, will decide at a meeting on March 1, whether its wage dispute with the company is to be finally settled by arbitration or a strike.

The union is demanding a 21 cents an hour increase for common labor and 25 cents for other employees.

The strike—second one to be called in a fortnight—was to have started at 12:01 a. m. today. The first one, called February 12, lasted 19 hours before it was suspended by the union "in the interest of the public."

The latest postponement came after eight days of conferences and negotiations between management and union representatives and a three-man mediation board headed by Mayor David L. Lawrence. The union's 51-man executive committee made the decision.

Mueller's dramatic announcement came even as transit service had come to a virtual halt. Downtown public buildings and stores were ready to close to conserve electrical current. A thousand policemen had been assigned to 12-hour shifts. The war-time Civilian Defense Committee had been alerted for any contingencies.

In some parts of Pittsburgh's Golden Triangle the chug-chug of emergency power motors being tested was heard through the evening. Some business buildings had installed these units in an effort to carry on if a complete power shutdown occurred.

The strike was so close at hand that two power stations did close down temporarily and a few picket lines were out. There was no interruption of electrical service, however.

The postponement followed appeals for a settlement by Secretary of Labor Schwechenbach, Governor Edward Martin, Penn.—(Turn to Page Nine)

Decision Near In Candidate Search

Harrisburg, Feb. 26.—(P)—Republican leaders today looked for decision by mid-week on the organization candidate for governor with one party source declaring he chooses lies between Attorney General James I. Duff and State Sen. Weldon B. Heyburn, of Delaware county.

Governor Martin, himself a candidate for the senate seat now held by U. S. Senator Joseph E. Gurney, a Democrat, brought forward Duff's name at a news conference last week but so far Duff has withheld comment on whether he will make the race.

Some party chieftains said a decision on the gubernatorial candidate may come when many of the party's outstanding leaders gather at the annual dinner of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association in Philadelphia tonight. Martin is on the speaking program.

So far, however, there has been no definite decision on a candidate and Martin's announcement last Thursday that none of the leading possibilities are "out of the picture" still stands, one informant said.

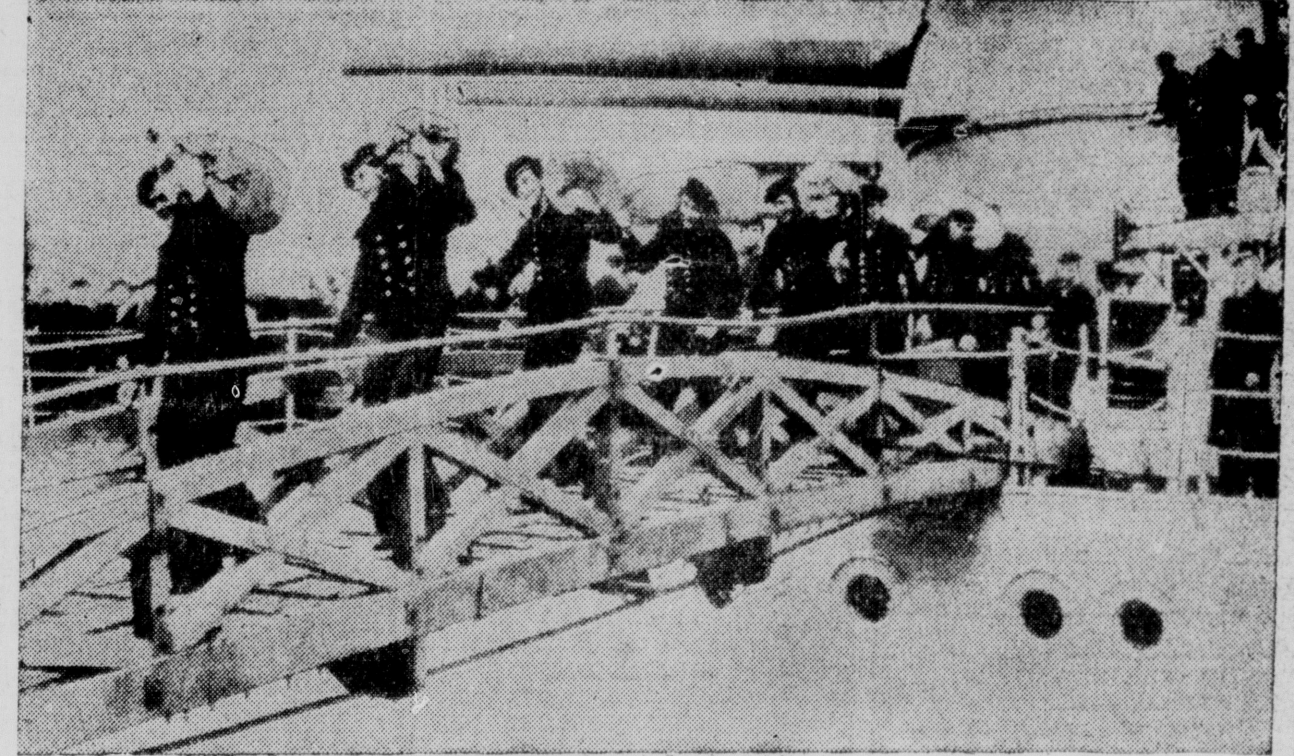

700,000 Men's Suits Held By Factories Merchants Charge

Washington, Feb. 26.—(P)—A spokesman for retail clothing merchants contended today that manufacturers are holding at least 700,000 men's suits from the market pending OPA price adjustments.

Louis Rothschild, executive director of the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers, said a reporter "this is a conservative estimate."

"Unquestionably there is holding in considerable volume—enough to relieve the present acute shortage of suits," Rothschild added that manufacturers "continue to hold suits from market until OPA announces scheduled revision of price regulations."

A "Guinea Pig" Clears Away for Action

Crew members of the former German cruiser Prinz Eugen leave vessel at Philadelphia with their belongings before entraining for New York, where they will board ship to return to Germany. The Prinz Eugen, which will be guinea pig warship in Navy atomic bomb tests next May, is being stripped before leaving for the Pacific.

Pauley Considers Suggestion He Request Name Withdrawn

Washington, Feb. 25.—(P)—Edwin W. Pauley said today he would "take under advisement" a suggestion that he request withdrawal of his nomination for undersecretary of navy.

The proposal was made, in the form of a question, by Senator Saltonstall (R-Mass.) as the senate naval committee resumed hearings on the California man's nomination to the navy post.

Some Democratic congressmen, as well as Republicans, have criticized Pauley's selection.

Interrupting Pauley's testimony, Saltonstall asked whether he would consider "as a patriotic American" asking withdrawal of his name if the committee finds there is no base for charges against his character.

"I would want to take that under advisement," Pauley replied. "I might say that suggestion is not unique. I have read it in almost every newspaper that I have seen, but I am still here."

As he left the stand, a reporter asked Pauley how long he would need to consider this proposal. He only shrugged his shoulders.

Pauley had just demanded a public apology from Senator Tobey (D-N. H.), chief opponent of his nomination, for what Pauley termed an "unjustifiable smear" regarding prewar sales of his company's oil to Japan.

Pauley told the committee Tobey had "come as close as he dared to charging me with treason" and asserted that his record ought to be cleared.

Tobey sat silently as Pauley read from a prepared statement a quotation in which the New Hampshire senator had said that the appointee was "aiding a potential enemy" when he permitted his company to sell oil that later was resold to Japan.

In contrast, the witness said he had ordered his firm in June 1938, or 42 months before the attack on Pearl Harbor, to stop any sales that might give Japan oil.

The Houston Chronicle estimated the early arrivals at the city hall at 3,500, and growing steadily. Houston's entire police force was on duty.

The Texas state guard was alerted, guardsmen reporting at dawn in uniform to armories.

Transportation was snarled as 700 taxi drivers joined the protest march. Travelers arriving on morning trains either walked or tried to get aboard already crowded buses.

CRAWFORD CO. BOY KILLED SLED RIDING

Hartstown, Feb. 26.—(P)—Rolling from his sled while coasting in a street, Wallace Detwyler, 10, was run over by a car and killed here last night. Crawford County Coroner Rufus J. King announced.

King reported that witnesses told him the car did not stop. He said he and state police are investigating.

The victim apparently was shot to death late Sunday night as he sat beside the driver in the front seat of the auto.

His assailant sent two .38 caliber pistol bullets into the back of his head. The body was found slumped across the front seat, the head under the steering wheel, a cigarette butt still clasped in one hand.

The victim was expensively dressed and had in his possession $342 in currency, including two $100 bills; a platinum ring with a three-diamond setting estimated to be worth more than $2,000; and an expensive watch.

DIVORCES ON INCREASE
Brookville, Feb. 26.—(P)—Prothonotary David L. Holt reported today the number of divorces granted in Jefferson county is on the increase. Twenty-three decrees were issued in the first two months of 1946, compared with the yearly average of 30.

Philadelphia, Feb. 26.—(P)—President Truman's proposed budget for 1946-47 is "the most inflationary ever laid before the national congress" and arguments that it will "reduce the public debt are a fraud and a deception," G. DISTURBANCES IN TENNESSEE CITY QUELLED

Hundred State Patrolmen, Four Hundred Guardsmen Controlling Bloody Columbia

THREE SCORE ARRESTS

BULLETIN
Columbia, Tenn., Feb. 26.—(P)—(P)—Order apparently had been restored in Columbia late this morning after riotous disorders in the Negro-populated section in which ten persons, including four policemen, were wounded.

Mayor Eldridge Denham said the situation was under control and advised Gov. Jim McCard in Nashville that it would not be necessary to declare martial law. However, the mayor requested the governor to keep state guard units and highway patrolmen here throughout the night.

Columbia, Tenn., Feb. 26.—(P)—One hundred state highway patrolmen, backed up by four hundred state guardsmen, moved swiftly into the negro populated district of Columbia at dawn today after a night of riotous disorders and by midnight more than three score arrests had been made.

At least ten persons were wounded in the disturbances which developed from the shooting of four Columbia policemen fired upon on early last night in the section known as "Mink Slide" where the disorders centered.

The shooting followed an altercation yesterday afternoon in which Sheriff J. J. Underwood said William Fleming, 28-year-old radio repairman, was pushed through a plate glass window of his shop by a negro woman and her son.

Lynn Bomar, state safety commissioner, said that among the sixty-five persons under arrest were a number who were believed to have been the ringleaders. Twelve of the suspects were seized in a raid by highway patrolmen upon the home of a negro undertaker.

These twelve, Bomar said, were charged with attempted murder. He added that in their possession were found four shot guns, two .22 rifles, and a revolver. The official said also that four open bottles of whiskey were found in the place.

The highway patrolmen deployed swiftly through the section after units of the state guard had maintained an all-night guard about the area known as "Mink Slide."

While the patrolmen were preparing to go into Mink Slide Colonel Victor Howard Wilson, commander of the state guard's second infantry regiment ordered dispersal of twenty-five white civilians who were standing around with shotguns. They left quietly.

As the dawn zero hour approached for the move-in fourteen shots volleyed through the blacked-out section. There was a lapse of four minutes and more shooting was heard, some of the reports (Turn to Page Nine)

Soviet Army, Airforce And Navy Unified

By EDDY GILMORE
Moscow, Feb. 26.—(P)—The Russian army, navy and airforce were unified today in a single commissariat—the armed forces of the U. S. S. R.—under the command of Generalissimo Stalin.

The three Soviet fighting forces were consolidated by decree of the presidium of the Supreme Soviet, which designated Stalin "People's Commissar of the armed forces and supreme commander-in-chief of the armed forces."

"Under the leadership of Generalissimo Stalin, the armed forces of the U. S. S. R. will henceforth x x x improve and develop to the dread of the enemies of Soviet power for the welfare of our people and the cause of peace in the entire world," the government newspaper Izvestia said in a three-column front-page editorial.

"The Soviet people were doing and will be doing everything in order that the Red army does not stay behind any army of any country whatever with regard to different kinds of armament, and from all members of our armed forces we require that they ceaselessly perfect their military and political plans," Izvestia said.

The 66-year-old generalissimo, who had been defense commissar since July 19, 1941, also is premier and secretary general of the central committee of the Communist party. The navy commissariat was abolished in the new organization and the defense commissariat was transformed into the new unified commissariat.

Izvestia said the action of the Supreme Soviet was of "enormous significance."

News Conference Is Called By President

Washington, Feb. 26.—(P)—President Truman today summoned newspaper and radio correspondents to a news conference at 4 p. m. this afternoon.

There was no explanation why the meeting was called on such short notice. Usually, the conferences are announced a day in advance.

Court Banned Mass Picketing Being Decided

Philadelphia, Feb. 26.—(P)—Acting Sheriff William J. Morrow said the "whole issue" of court-banned mass picketing by CIO workers at the strike-bound General Electric Company plant will be settled at meetings today and "under the circumstances there is no necessity for any intervention by police."

Approximately 1,400 pickets, members of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, yesterday defied a common pleas court injunction outlawing mass picketing.

The workers, participating in a nation-wide strike for a $2-a-day wage boost, paraded two abreast outside the plant gates. The injunction limits picketing to 10 men. They must march 10 feet apart.

More than 500 CIO pickets paraded this morning. Thirty police-armed men at the plant made no attempt to disperse the pickets.

Morrow first announced he would order police intervention if strikers resumed their shoulder-to-shoulder picketing, but said he altered the decision when "the company informed me that it will make no effort to induce any employees to enter the plant, except maintenance men, who have the union's permission to go in."

"I anticipate no demonstration," he stated.

Morrow said spokesmen for UERMW Local 119 and the company agreed to temporary concessions at a conference with Mayor Bernard Samuel, but details were withheld.

Battle Faces Home Building Bill In House

Washington, Feb. 26.—(P)—The House called up its emergency home building bill today with members set for a slam bang battle on two administration requests left out of the measure.

They called for:
1. A system to clamp price ceilings on all of the nation's $40,000,000 existing dwellings.

2. The government to ante up $1,600,000,000, including $600,000,000 in subsidies in an effort to get 2,700,000 new homes built in the next two years.

Another sizzling controversy developed (Turn to Page Nine)

Injunction Ruling Will Be Applied

Pittsburgh, Feb. 26.—(P)—The Westinghouse Electric Corporation announced today it has filed an appeal to the state supreme court from a common pleas court decision refusing the firm an injunction to limit picketing at its strike-bound Pittsburgh plants.

In denying the restraint, Judge Walter P. Smart ruled yesterday that the state's 1937 anti-injunction law applied in the case because it was not a labor dispute violating a valid labor agreement.

"There has been an actual constructive seizure, holding, damaging or destruction of plant, equipment or machinery or other property of the employer," he said.

A hearing on the appeal might be sought before the supreme court's session in Pittsburgh next month, former Judge Elder W. Marshall, of Westinghouse counsel, stated.

Heart Attack Fatal To Anthony Drexel

Boca Grande, Feb. 26.—(P)—A heart attack caused the death of Anthony J. Drexel, 59, former broker and grandson of the founder of Drexel and Company, nationally known banking firm, at his home here Saturday.

Funeral services and burial will be in Philadelphia, where Drexel was born, on Thursday.

Drexel is survived by his wife, the former Marjorie Gould, daughter of George J. Gould. Their marriage in April, 1910, united two family fortunes estimated at $40,000,000. Besides his wife, a son, daughter, sister and two brothers survive.

Drexel, who resided in France until Germany declared war on Poland in 1939, spent most of the past four years at his Florida home or at his residence at Shelter Island, L. I.

WITHDRAWAL OF DEMANDS IS ANNOUNCED BY MAYOR OF METROPOLIS AFTER MEETING

New York, Feb. 26.—(P)—Mayor William O'Dwyer said today the threat of a city-wide transit strike had been called off. The mayor made the announcement after a conference at city hall with CIO President Philip Murray. He said the CIO Transport Workers Union, headed by City Councilman Michael J. Quill, had withdrawn its demand for designation as sole collective bargaining agent for transit workers.

BULLETIN

New York, Feb. 26.—(P)—CIO President Philip Murray sped to New York from the nation's capital today and this great metropolis hoped his presence meant accelerated last-minute efforts to forestall a threatened transit strike.

City officials and representatives of the CIO Transport Workers Union still were apart on the basic strike issue—that the TWU be recognized as sole collective bargaining agent for transit workers.

As the Board of Transportation prepared to meet to consider the union's demand on bargaining—as an alternative to a walkout—Mayor William O'Dwyer received added support on his stand that such a request was precluded by law.

The board of estimate backed the mayor's position and empowered the city in a resolution to transfer from one department to another key men needed to operate the municipally-owned subways, elevated, trolley and bus lines in the event the walkout materialized.

The CIO Transport Workers Union, which claims to represent 20,000 of the transit workers, has threatened to call the strike any time after midnight tonight unless its demand was met by the board of transportation. The Board of Estimate said the TWU represented only 5,000 of the city's transit workers.

The TWU also seeks a $2-a-day wage increase. O'Dwyer has declared the wage demand was justified.

O'Dwyer was assured of further support in keeping the transit system working when Bernard Brophy, president of the AFL American Federation of Municipal Transit Workers, claiming 6,000 members among the city's transit employees, announced last night his union would not support the threatened strike.

Earlier, Brophy declared that (Turn to Page Nine)

Spanish Frontier Closed By France

Paris, Feb. 26.—(P)—The French government today ordered the frontier with Franco Spain closed, effective at midnight, March 1, declaring the present situation in Spain constitutes a "danger for international security."

The French cabinet's action was taken after a lengthy explanation of the situation by Foreign Minister Georges Bidault. The tension between the two countries has been growing for a week.

Last Friday the consultative assembly overwhelmingly voted a protest over the execution of 10 Spanish Republicans by the Spanish government. Madrid dispatches last night said 37 persons were convicted by a court martial at Alcala de Henares on charges of attempting to reorganize the Socialist party in Spain and three of them were given 12-year prison terms.

Comforting News On Hosiery Situation

Washington, Feb. 26.—(P)—The bare facts are that a lot of American women have no hosiery and they are raising one of the greatest hullabaloos some congressmen ever have heard from their constituents.

But John D. Small, Civilian Production Administrator, had comforting news today for senators harassed by women threatening to fight them in the next election if they don't help get nylons.

Small said there would be six or seven pairs of nylons this year for every woman in the nation.

A deluge of mail from women vexed by the stocking situation began arriving in Washington several days ago.

Coming Swedish Celebration Subject of Talk To Rotarians

Charles L. Eckman of Jamestown, New York, President of the Chancellors Valley-Jamestown Centennial Commission, addressed Rotary Monday evening plans for celebrating the 100th anniversary of the founding of the first Swedish colony in western Pennsylvania and New York.

He recalled that in 1838 there was a celebration in Wilmington, Delaware, commemorating the landing of the Swedes 300 years before. The celebration to be held this year is next in importance to that one.

In the middle 1840's most Swedish immigrants selected the middle western states as their home for they were primarily interested in farming. The route traveled carried them up the Hudson River, across the Erie Canal and then through the Great Lakes. One unfortunate family became stranded in Buffalo, New York and spent some time there at Hamburg, New York. Their plight was learned by the Falconer family (for whom Falconer, New York was named), who adopted one of the girls. (Thomas Struthers) family of Warren.

These girls were the first Swedish immigrants to come to this section. They were so impressed and delighted with the kindness of their friends and the beauty of the surrounding country that they wrote letters to other Swedish folks who decided to come here to live. It was three or four years (Turn to Page Five)

Controversial St. Lawrence Seaway Now Seen as Security Measure

Once more Congress is considering the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Seaway project, which, although urged by several Presidents from Wilson to Roosevelt, has never been approved. The late war gave its proponents a new argument—that it is essential to national security. The Secretaries of War and Navy made a joint declaration to Congress that, in addition to its economic advantages, the development would afford shipbuilding and repair facilities in a relatively secure area; give an additional supply line for ocean shipping which would ease wartime strain on eastern ports and railroads and become a large source of cheap, dependable power without the use of coal or other war-critical materials.

Fire Guts Home At Russell; Firemen Rescue Money Roll

Fire last night gutted the home of Albert Smith, Pine street, Russell at 10:30. The upper portion of the eight room frame residence was literally destroyed and the lower portion of the dwelling was drenched by water and rugs, furniture, etc., ruined.

A coal stove which had been banked for the night and which later blazed up is thought to have caused the blaze. Mr. Smith, owner of the property had retired for the night when he was awakened by the crackle of flames as they raced through portions on the second floor of the dwelling and ate into the attic. Mr. Smith roused, rushed to the home of a neighbor and telephoned in an alarm.

The Russell fire department responded as quickly as possible and laid lines of hose and began pouring water on the blazing upper portion of the home. The flames had made much headway and broke through the roof and siding of the building. Finally the weight of water began to tell and the fire was extinguished.

Mrs. Frank Norberg, housekeeper for Mr. Smith was spending the night with Mrs. Clara Wright, who resides in a bungalow next to the Smith home. Mrs. Norberg had $200 in a dresser drawer in a room at the Smith home and firemen groped through smoke and flame and recovered the money. However Mrs. Norberg lost all of her clothing and personal property.

The Wright bungalow was protected by the firemen from the intense heat and it was not damaged.

The fire was undoubtedly the worst that the Russell firemen have had to cope with in many months. However the water supply was thoroughly adequate and the excellent equipment of the firemen proved its value.

HAS FEW HORSES

Pennsylvania today has a paltry 207,000 horses, less than at any time in the history of the commonwealth. Secretary of Agriculture Miles Horst, who made the estimate, said a survey showed the number of horses declined six per cent in 1945, compared with the previous year, and the same was true with mules, cattle, sheep and hogs. There were 27,000 mules in the state last year, lowest since 1888.

DRIVERS TO GET HIKE

It is expected that the decision of the Federal fact finding boards which handed the Greyhound Bus dispute will be accepted by both sides and there appears to be little danger of a further tie-up of the buses that pass through this section. Terminal employees are recommended for a flat increase of 13 cents an hour and the bus drivers will get a hike of about 14 per cent under the decision.

FIELD IS DEVELOPING

The oil field which lies between Sugar Grove and Busti is gradually being developed. A number of wells have been drilled in that section and some oil and gas has been found. Near Sugar Grove several farmers are using gas from wells on their farms. A new 2400 foot well was drilled in at Busti with a flow of two barrels of oil per day and about 5000 to 10,000 feet. The well is the first to be drilled in Chautauqua county that has produced anything of value.

CAN DEDUCT TAX

Pennsylvania motorists may deduct the state four cents a gallon gasoline tax paid out in 1945 from their federal income tax returns this year. It was announced today by R. B. Maxwell, secretary-manager of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, representing 61 affiliated AAA automobile clubs in the state. "It must be added that any deductions," Mr. Maxwell explained, "whether based on a state gasoline tax or any other items, may be made only when the taxpayer reports his income in detail on Form 1040."

Taken to the hospital in the Lutz ambulance an examination showed only a bump on one hip. Somewhat sobered by the experience Tuttle was discharged from the hospital and placed in one of the safe and comfortable cells at the borough lock-up. This morning he will tell it to Justice Greund and return to the fastnesses of his rural home.

New York Park Council Would Move Cornplanters

Salamanca, Feb. 26—Elimination of the Allegheny Indian reservation, relocation of the Indians and joint federal-state development of the Allegheny river valley as a recreational area has been recommended to the federal government by the New York state council of parks.

Announcement of the council's action was made today by Charles E. Congdon, chairman of the Allegheny State Park commission, on his return from a meeting of the state council in New York City.

The program was recommended for inclusion in the federal government's plans for a flood control dam in the Allegheny river at Kinzua. The recreational area around this proposed Allegheny reservoir would be integrated with Allegheny State park.

At its meeting, the state council received a report from Col. W. E. Lorence, district engineer for the war department at Pittsburgh, where plans for the Kinzua dam are being prepared. Col. Lorence outlined two proposals for joint federal-state development of the Allegheny reservoir area which he will submit to the war department.

The first proposal was based on "acquisition in fee and in toto of the Allegheny Indian reservation and the removal of the Indians to a new location."

In addition to taking over all the reservation, including that part of Salamanca which is on Indian land, the war department would purchase all privately-owned land, on tributaries of the river, necessary for flood control or recreation. The state would abandon all highways in the reservoir and would pay the cost of relocating state highway 17 outside the river valley west of Salamanca. Privately-owned land which would be cut off by the road abandonment would be purchased by the war department.

The war department also would construct a dam on Quaker run for recreational purposes and would turn it over to the state park for operation.

The second proposal made by Col. Lorence was based on federal acquisition of only floodage and clearing rights for the parts of the Allegheny reservation which would be subject to flooding. This plan would leave the Indians in possession of their present land, but their homes would be liable to flooding whenever operation of the dam required the reservoir to be filled.

Under this proposal the war department still would construct the dam in Quaker run, but the plans for purchasing land to be integrated with the state park would be abandoned. Costs of relocating highways would be borne by the war department.

In its resolution, the state council of parks favored adoption of the first proposal and ordered that this recommendation be sent to Col. Lorence for presentation to the war department, and also to the New York state flood control commission.

Co. I Plans for Inspection On Evening of March 25th

Headquarters Pennsylvania Guard, Wayne, has announced that the federal inspections of the 116 separate organizations of the Guard will be conducted by officers of the Third Service Command during the period March 4 to 26, 1946. These inspections are conducted annually by officers representing the commanding general of the service command to indicate whether the federal support rendered each State Guard unit is merited by the efficiency of the unit.

A thorough scheduled inspection of training, ordnance, equipment, and other federal property issued to the Guard will be made. Other purposes of the inspections are to ascertain the adequacy of training aids and equipment, the use being made of these facilities, the suitability of local plans for the employment of the Guard and the ability of each unit to alert itself for disasters or other missions on short notice. Inspectors will report on forms furnished by the National Guard Bureau of the War Department. A copy of the report on each unit will be furnished to that bureau. Inspections will be made the occasion for timely and constructive suggestions to unit commanders for the improvement of their commands.

Captain James V. Scalise of Company I states that his command will receive its federal inspection on March 25th. The weapons, records, and equipment of the company will be inspected at 4:00 p. m. at the local armory and the training of the company at 8:00 p. m.

Company I has received excellent ratings at previous annual federal inspections. The records attained have fully substantiated the fine history of the organization. Captain Scalise states that every effort is being made by the members of his command to secure a higher rating on the approaching inspection than ever before and to carry the increased efficiency into the annual 15 day period of field training at Indian-town Gap Military Reservation from June 22nd to July 6th.

Company "I" will hold open houses at the armory on the night of its inspection on 25th March. The formation of the company, the drill, and training tests of the inspecting officers will be open to the public. Users will be provided for friends of the organization at this opportunity to see its activities.

It is hoped that between now and Federal inspection the company will enlist several new members. Any man interested may receive information at the Armory on Monday or Thursday evenings of each week.

Captain James V. Scalise has been notified that Co. I has taken the honors in a battalion rifle match, thereby winning the battalion cup and the opportunity to participate in the regimental shoot which will take place in the near future.

Parents and Sons Night At Y Promises Jolly Evening

Arrangements have been completed for what promises to be a most entertaining and interesting program of feature the parents and sons party to be held at the YMCA Saturday night of this week at 7:30 o'clock. The program of family fellowship and fun is being sponsored by the Parents Service Council of the YMCA.

The planning committee, made up of the council's temporary officers—F. H. Hetrick, chairman, and Mrs. Ira Brown, secretary, together with General Secretary Ralph H. Wagner—has succeeded in scheduling the services of Prof. Walter Biberich, of Westminster College faculty, as speaker and entertainer. His topic will be "Applying Magic and Hypnotism to Our Everyday Life."

Prof. Biberich's talk will be followed by a demonstration of magic tricks, then an introduction to hypnotism and its true meaning, followed by the hypnotizing of subjects. This no ordinary vaudeville stunt, but rather a high calibre program containing educational values as well as amusement and entertainment. Prof. Biberich has promised "to hold their attention throughout the evening."

For parents and sons who would like to make a longer evening of it, a half-hour of motion pictures will be shown between 7 and 7:30, including a technical comedy, a fancy swimming demonstration and an organologue.

The event is strictly what the name implies: a parents and sons affair. Boys will not be admitted without at least one parent. Reservations can be made by phone or in person at the YMCA office any time before Friday.

Oil Well Near Jamestown Is A Small One

Jamestown, N. Y., Feb. 26.—(P)—Whether the Donelson No. 1 oil well, brought in last Friday five miles south of Jamestown, will continue to produce in quantities sufficient for commercial use cannot be determined definitely for some time, Glenn A. Mills, drilling superintendent, said today.

"It's nothing sensational," he said. "It was hoped at first it would produce about two barrels of oil a day, but it now appears it will be more like one barrel a week. Still, if we get a number of wells that produce this much, they will constitute a worthwhile commercial venture."

He declared the initial gas flow of 100,000 cubic feet and dropped to about 3,000 cubic feet.

Mills said drilling would start immediately one-half mile east of the Donelson No. 1 on another well, the second in a projected series in that vicinity. Mills said he represented Todd M. Pettigrew, Evanston, Ill., acting business manager for a group of Chicago business men.

Chapter 17

THE cabbie turned around and looked Rush over. He apparently decided that Rush knew what he was doing, for he turned around with a shrug of his shoulders and put the car into gear.

The drive lasted some twenty minutes and took them to a side street on which the only light was from a garish neon sign spelling out a name—MARKIO'S. Rush paid the driver and pushed through a door into a deep, narrow, smoky room.

He knew he wouldn't have to look for the man he had come to see. Somewhere in the crowd a pair of eyes would look him over and report to the boss. He waited in the doorway. Scarcely a minute passed before a hand tugged at his sleeve.

"The boss'll see you in his ear," said a voice in his ear.

He followed the owner of the voice, a thin, over-dressed little guy who might have played clarinet in an orchestra. They walked past the long bar to a door at the end of the room. It opened and shut behind Rush, and the noise disappeared with the closing. Rush was in a neatly appointed office that might have been done for any executive in any building on Michigan Boulevard. The room was fully soundproofed, and lighted by indirect lamps along the wall. Seated at the leather-covered desk in the middle of the room was a man with a large head, saved from baldness by a thin fringe of hair brushed flat across from temple to temple. It gave the impression of hair painted on an egg. The man looked like a floorwalker. He raised his eyes as Rush came in.

"Been expecting you, Henry. Sit down." He nodded at a chair. Rush sat down. Markio nodded at a liquor stand. "Drink?" Rush poured an inch into a glass from a bottle of rye. He drank half of it and looked up at his host.

"Merwin was in asking questions. I told him you should come yourself."

Rush stubbed out his cigarette. "I did," he said.

Markio nodded as though that was only right. "Yes," he said. "Let's have it. What's on your mind?"

"The Germaine girl," said Rush. "What about her?"

"Her old man is in a spin. He put me on it to find out what gives."

"He showed you my letter?"

Rush nodded.

"That's it," said Markio. "Rush killed the rest of his drink. 'Yeah,' he said. 'I expect it is—as far as you personally are concerned. I figured you'd wash it out as too hard to handle. But did everybody else?'"

Markio looked at him carefully. "How would I know?" he asked at last.

"You'd know," said Rush. Markio grinned. "Yes," he said. "I'd know."

"Well," said Rush. "What's it worth?" asked Markio.

"This time Rush grinned. It wasn't a pleasant grin. "That's a silly question, Markio," he said. "You'll tell me for nothing." He paused and looked straight at the egg-headed man. "Won't you, Markio?"

Markio met his gaze for a long minute, then his eyes shifted. "Yeah, maybe I will, Henry. You've never made me any trouble and I don't want you to."

Rush interrupted. "Let's get this straight, Markio. You know damn well I'll cause you trouble if you don't tell me. You know how and why, so don't try to make it a favor. Just pop. I'm listening."

Markio shrugged his shoulders as though the conversation had become distasteful. "We should drop her here," he said. "She dropped in at several places. Got nothing until she hit the Mick's joint. She may have made a deal there."

"What's her pitch?" asked Rush. "Thrills," she said. "Markio seemed unbelieving. Wanted to play at gun moll. Wanted to dough, just to go along. She scared me."

"Anything else?"

"She wanted to know if I ever got shot, or ever killed a man and how it felt. How it felt, migo?"

"Yeah," said Rush, "migo. When did she show at Big Mick's?"

"I don't know. One of the boys mentioned she was in there. Spent a long time with Mick. He bought her a drink afterwards."

"Okay," said Rush. "If she shows around here again, give her the brush. I figure maybe the old man would appreciate it."

"Yeah," said Markio. "What about her kid brother? I hear he got it in your backyard?"

"Yeah," said Rush noncommittally. Then a thought struck him. "Markio, have you had any rumble on a pair of emeralds loose in Chicago?"

"A pair of the green? Hot?"

Rush nodded.

Markio shook his head thoughtfully. "No," he said. "Nothing like that."

"Okay," said Rush. He turned at the door. "If you get anything on the Germaine girl I'd like to know, call me."

Markio nodded and Rush went out through the door, through the mob and into the street. He walked several blocks to a cross-town street and flagged a cab. His watch gave the time as twelve-thirty and he remembered that Hope was coming around for protection. He laughed a little to himself at that as he gave his home address to the cab driver. Big Mick could wait till the next day.

ADVICE TO G. I. WIVES

The American woman, going overseas to join her husband in an Army of Occupation, will have a more difficult time becoming adjusted to her environment than the foreign bride has coming to this country.

So says Dr. Clifford R. Adams, head of the marriage counseling service at the Pennsylvania State College, who warns American women they'll find inconveniences, intolerance, and prejudice, in foreign lands.

"The fearful, emotional, immature wife, wholly dependent upon her husband, would do well to stay in this country," Dr. Adams asserts.

He pictured the woman going to Germany or Japan as a pioneer and said the girl best fitted for this adventure is the independent type who is not "timid or scared" but can make her own decisions.

While families overseas will find themselves confronted with many difficult problems, Dr. Adams points out that their hardships will draw husband and wife closer together and make them more dependent on each other.

Before a wife decides to join her husband in a foreign country, Dr. Adams recommends that she work out with him problems that may arise in regard to their budget, housing facilities, education for their children, and other material questions.

"If the wife understands what she's up against," Dr. Adams believes, "she'll be better qualified to make a fair decision about going overseas, and once there, probably will find happiness with her husband."

SHIP DISPERSAL

The Navy and the Army can't agree on how to arrange warships for the atom bombing test at Bikini Atoll in May. The Army wants to lash them rail to rail. The Navy wants capital ships to be separated by at least a mile.

To the layman both suggestions appear silly. Neither would give any intelligent idea what the atom bomb would really do, in practical use. Neither would give the basic information necessary to revise naval operational methods.

The first suspicion, reading of the conflicting ideas, is that the Navy would like to see the atom bomb's effects minimized while the Army wants them to be exaggerated. We hope such suspicion is unfounded. If it is not, here is another argument for merger of the armed forces and an ending of senseless rivalry.

CHINESE PIQUE

Perhaps it is brazen of the Chinese, but rumor has it that they are piqued about the secret Yalta agreement among Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin which, without consultation with Chiang, handed over Chinese territory to the Soviet Union.

By this gift and other concessions Stalin was induced to agree to join in the war against Japan, which he should have entered anyway in the interest of Siberian safety and expansion.

The deal is said to have hurt American prestige in China. That does not seem unlikely. The Chinese, of all things, are not foolish.

Governor Martin emphasizes that the Red Cross "has new challenges to meet" and urges Pennsylvanians to continue to support it. The reminder is timely but really not necessary so far as Warren county is concerned. However, more information on the subject may be had by going to headquarters tomorrow evening at eight and listening to talk by a field representative from Pittsburgh on the subject "Why the War is Never Over for the Red Cross".

Rotarians heard an interesting talk Monday noon by Charles L. Eckman, of Jamestown, president of the Chandlers Valley Centennial Association, which reminds that the celebration this summer will be one of the outstanding events of the year.

MACKENZIE'S Column

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP World Traveler

Herford, Germany, Feb. 26.—One of the difficult problems of the Allied forces of occupation in Germany has been the position of the large number of displaced persons from other countries.

These "DP's," as the British soldiers call them, were mostly Hitler's slave labor and prisoners of war. In this zone there originally were 2,450,000 who had to be housed, clothed, fed and kept warm. A million of these were Russians and another half million were Poles. The rest being mainly Italians, Dutch and French.

British authorities have repatriated all but 450,000 of these unfortunate folk and would repatriate the rest gladly.

But most of these displaced persons don't want to go home at this time. The majority of them are Poles and they are holding back mainly for economic reasons, although some say they are fearful on political grounds.

The authorities expect most of them will be ready to go back in the spring when the weather is good, but in the meantime they represent a half million mouths to feed in a Germany which already is struggling with a food, fuel and housing shortage.

Mrs. Mack and I encountered a most interesting cross-section of DP's in the barracks. Some half of them are Jews who were political prisoners in the Nazi murder camps. The members of this colony live in small groups in the rooms of the many barracks buildings. They are provided with all necessities and get better food rations than are allowed Germans.

Those who were prisoners in the awful concentration camps get special privileges, for many of them are in weakened condition.

There are schools for the children and the DP's run them. Some of these folk work outside for the British and get better pay than the Germans.

Mrs. Mack and I talked with a number of groups among them one crowd of young Polish Jews, both boys and girls. We asked if they wanted to go back to Poland and there was a unanimous and rousing "no." "We want to go to Palestine," they chorused. Some want to be farmers. Others don't care so much what they do so long as they get to Palestine.

The British are prepared to repatriate all DP's as fast as they ask for it but there is no inclination to force anybody to go home against his will.

LOWER MEAT PRICES

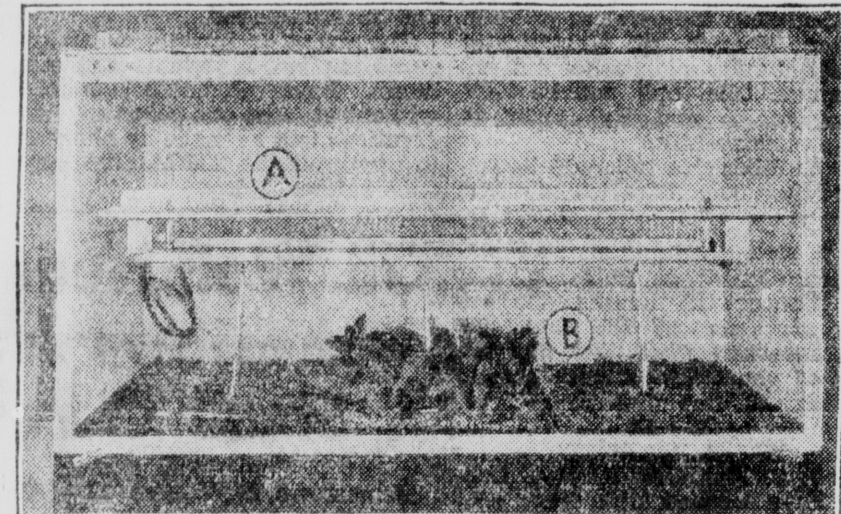

Lower meat prices were forecast by Senator Thomas (D-Okla.) today, despite administration concern that wage increases for packing industry workers may involve a price advance. Thomas sized up the general outlook, however, and announced his verdict that "meat is going to get cheaper." As chairman of the senate agriculture committee, Thomas has devoted a lot of years and effort to trying to raise farm prices. He said that right now the major factors in the situation point to a decline in meat prices due to a heavy supply.

U. S. Model Hot-bed Grows Plants in Artificial Light

U. S. D. A. Photograph of Stoutmeyer-Close Hot-Bed. A, Fluorescent Lamp Fixture; B, Trays in Which Plants Grow.

Working Drawing of Basement Hot-Bed Illustrated Above.

A hot-bed in which plants for next spring's garden can be started this winter in the basement, or any room of the house, and grown to transplanting size under artificial light, is illustrated.

V. T. Stoutmeyer and Albert W. Close of the United States department of agriculture developed the model shown, which uses fluorescent lamps to supply light. More than a hundred years ago N. B. Ward, inventor of the Wardian case, now called the terrarium, grew plants under gas light, experimentally. But until now it has been impractical to supply sufficient light artificially, without also developing too much heat.

The fluorescent lamp makes it possible to provide, without too much heat, sufficient light to germinate seed and develop plants to the proper size for moving to the outdoor garden.

As shown, the Stoutmeyer hot-bed consists of a box, resting on a table or on legs, in which trays or flats filled with sphagnum moss or vermiculite are placed, with an air space containing a heating unit beneath them, and fluorescent lamps above. Two 40-watt fluorescent tubes—either blue tubes, or daylight type—with reflectors are suspended a foot above the flats. They are kept burning continuously. An air space above them prevents excessive heating.

Below the flats is a space which is heated by a sealed lighting unit which fits into an ordinary lighting outlet, or by an infra-red or carbon filament lamp, or by two tungsten lamps connected in series. An electric heating coil may be used. A thermostat of the type used for poultry brooders controls the heat. Seeds are sown in the flats or trays. For most vegetable and flower plants the minimum temperature should be set at 65 degrees. Water may be supplied by using wicks to draw it from pans below the flats; by setting an empty flower pot in the center of each flat, into which water may be poured to provide subirrigation; or by watering the surface. The second method requires that the flats be lined with waterproof paper to hold the water; and the third requires that excess water be allowed to drain away.

Enclosure of the hot-bed helps keep both heat and humidity even. There is no objection to mixing the fluorescent light with daylight, and the unit may be used in a sun-parlor, and opened during the day to allow daylight to supplement the lamps.

When vermiculite is used to fill the flats, or trays, a layer of sphagnum moss passed through a sieve should be placed on top, and the seed sown in this, and covered with more moss. The sterile substance will prevent destruction of the seedlings by damping off and similar diseases.

The indoor hot-bed not only saves the gardener from the discomfort of managing an outdoor bed in the cold weather, but insures the plants adequate light, and an even temperature. Once the management of the bed is learned, it will need attention only for occasional watering and ventilation.

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

In 1926

One of the most encouraging reports of the Community Chest drive was that factory and industrial workers are backing the campaign wholeheartedly. Last year, factory workers did not donate as freely.

At a meeting of the Pickett Hardware Club, store officials presented figures to show that a remarkable increase in business over that of the 1925 has been recorded so far in 1926.

Workmen are again engaged in preparing the Salvation Army storeroom for its new occupant, the A. and P. Company. The store, to open March 1, will not force closure of any other in Warren.

Warren High basketballers are anxious to triumph over Franklin in their contest there. The hosts scored a victory here, and, with Heinie Anderson back in the lineup, the locals should win.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

by Jack Stinnett

WASHINGTON—Your capital in peacetime:

Prediction: Maybe this year, certainly next, Hawaii will be on the way to becoming the 49th state. The chief argument against it is the mixed population of the islands. This same argument was put forward 34 years ago when the last two states—Arizona and New Mexico—were brought in. Alaska will have to wait a while, maybe quite a while.

President Truman didn't equivocate in his long state-of-the-union message when he suggested for Hawaii "prompt favorable action" on her statehood application. As for Alaska, he merely suggested that it be granted statehood as soon as it is certain that her people desire it.

These aren't partisan political issues. The President spoke on the basis of reports from both areas.

SO FAR as I know, it was first pointed out in this column that the area selected for the United Nations headquarters in the United States would find itself with headaches that would make most of the bidders that were passed over glad they hadn't been selected.

It certainly has happened. The protests of the New York-Connecticut residents in the area given preliminary approval were so vigorous they even reached London, where the UNO was deciding upon a permanent location.

Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich.) has a pretty loud voice in the Senate on all UN matters. He is the recognized leader of the Republicans on United Nations affairs. His suggestion that "a comfortable college campus" would be adequate for UN headquarters rather than the 42 square miles of millionaire-estate land suggested by the site committee took quite a hold in the Senate.

It may be assumed that the Senators were thinking on this purely in terms of the interests of their states. There are a few states that wouldn't like to have the world capital within their borders, but fewer still that would like to give up 42 square miles of choice tax-paying land owned by some of their "most influential citizens" just for that historical privilege.

In spite of protests, though, the UNO general assembly finally voted to set up headquarters in Fairfield County, Connecticut, and Westchester County, New York.

POLITICAL observers here are awaiting the answer to one $64 question: How far will Old Curmudgeon Harold L. Ickes go in fighting President Truman now that he has left the cabinet?

In spite of his 15 years in national government (13 of them in the cabinet) Ickes never has been identified with a true New Dealer nor is he considered a friend of the conservatives.

It has been predicted many times that Ickes will go with Sidney Hillman's CIO Political Action Committee. If so, the color of PAC will be changing a bit.

The truth is that Ickes is a middle-of-the-roader, probably the most outspoken individualist in the political picture. He doesn't speak for anybody but Ickes. Although he did fight for President Roosevelt through three terms, he was never hand-in-glove with any of the White House groups.

In spite of the fact that he went out like a lion, many observers here think that Ickes may become a political lamb, possibly even a "forgotten man" by the time the 1948 elections roll around.

A Good Night's Work, Sergeant!— Wins $4,150 Quiz and Wifely Salute

Staff Sergeant Hulon Whittington, of Ellaville, Ga., receives another "award" from his "atomic blonde" wife after answering the pay-off question on "Break the Bank," Vicks Saturday night show, for an all-time record of $4,150. Holder of the Congressional Medal of Honor, the Silver Star, the Purple Heart and five campaign decorations, Sergeant Whittington's first thought for using the money was to erect a monument to his mother, who died while he was in service. Whereupon a Seattle firm wired that they would furnish the monument free in recognition of the Sergeant's brilliant war record.

First-Year Latin Provides For Necessary Foundation

(Printed in conjunction with Latin Week observance)

The recent strikes for higher wages and shorter hours are signs that the old, old reasons for studying Latin are rapidly becoming the timeliest. Americans are growing aware, and justifiably so, that more leisure with its proper application is conducive to better application to toil during laboring hours. They have discovered, too, that vocations are often more profitable than vocations, but they enjoy a combination of both. By a majority this free time will go into literary activities, for which nothing will provide sound preparation but a generous training in the classics. Not all Americans will become epic poets, essayists, or novelists with the advent of the 7-hour 5-day week, but they will spend more time in libraries, clubs, and at home in reading. Those schools best equip people to become careful, critical, appreciative readers and thinkers which team them the ancient languages. No better way has been found for developing sound tastes and skilled comprehension.

President James Bryant Conant, Harvard University, a great scientist who worked on the atomic bomb, has proposed in his recent book "General Education in a Free Society" that there is no better practice in reading or writing English than translation. The teaching of a single language will remain far the commoner way of giving perspective to English. The prime function of the early stages of language teaching is to illuminate English in these two respects in which English supremely needs illumination, namely, syntax and vocabulary. The first year of Latin accomplishes both these aims through its relation of Latin words to English, its work with parts of speech, declensions, conjugations, simple translations from Latin into English and easy transference of English into Latin.

A study of Latin also aids in the oral expression of thought which is an art in itself. Oliver Wendell Holmes said, "Talking is one of the fine arts . . . and its fluent harmonies may be spoiled by the intrusion of a single harsh note" and "The flowering moments of the mind drop half their petals in our speech." Emerson, the essayist, made the comment, "And it is so plain to me that eloquence, like swimming, is an art which all men might learn though so few do."

Warren has maintained a high enrollment in its Latin classes, and now has perhaps the highest enrollment in the state, as regards percentage. We feel, however, that many should be taking it who are not, and that it would be good for every high school student.

Speaker To Discuss Red Cross Work

An interesting and timely meeting, to which the public is invited, will be held at Red Cross Headquarters, 404 Market street, tomorrow evening at 8:00. The speaker will be Joseph P. Lippincott, field director, American Red Cross, at the Veterans Administration, Pittsburgh.

Problems that confront the men in service, both at home and overseas, will be discussed by Mr. Lippincott. He will also tell what the Red Cross is doing for men in government hospitals and other veterans' facilities and likewise point out how the Red Cross can take fuller advantage of its many and increasing Home Service duties.

J. W. A. Luce, president of the Warren County Chapter, urged this morning that as many Red Cross workers and volunteers who can, arrange to hear the talk by Mr. Lippincott tomorrow evening. A cordial invitation is likewise extended to all veterans and the public at large. It is the feeling of the officers of the Warren County Chapter that Mr. Lippincott has a timely and interesting talk which can be of benefit to many persons.

The Red Cross has a definite program for men still in service, as well as to those who have recently been discharged. Mr. Lippincott is being sent here by National Headquarters in order that all interested persons may be apprised of what the Red Cross has done and will still strive to do for men in service and those recently discharged.

YOUNGVILLE NEWS

Youngville, Feb. 25—Officers of the Youngville Eastern Star entertained Thursday evening at a co-operative dinner at the Forge Club House in honor of the worthy Matron, Mrs. Helen Johnson. The dinner was served from a buffet table very prettily decorated in patriotic motives, some with a suggestion that the occasion was the eve of Washington's birthday.

The dinner guests were seated at small tables centered by a candle in hand painted holders. Later in the evening these candles were used as prizes in various games played.

A lovely gift was presented Mrs. Helen Johnson by her fellow officers.

LAYMAN'S DAY SERVICE
Sunday, Feb. 24th was Layman's Day throughout the Methodist church. In Youngville the service was held at 11 a. m., opening with silent prayer and meditation. H. H. Husted gave the call to worship and made the announcements. Ship, lead in the responsive reading Prayer was made by M. H. Sellin. Elton Barton lead in the anthem given by the choir. The New Testament lesson was read by Charles Egbert.

A very fine message was given by E. C. Stillings with his subject "So with the Scripture passages, 'For God So Loved the World'—and 'Let Your Light So Shine'." Dr. Detar was in charge of the ushers at this service. The entire service was conducted by the laymen of the congregation and the pastor, Rev. E. W. Chitester, had an opportunity to sit with his family in the congregation.

The local Methodist "Crusade for Christ" which began Dec. 1944 with the local church quota asked as $1400. The money is to be used for world religious needs and the local church responded by pledging $2300. The total now paid by the Youngville charge is $2380.50.

The virgin forest which still pressed close to the small clearing made a marvelous playground for the Peterson children and Mrs. Peterson fondly remembers the good times she and her sisters had playing house in rooms marked into being by their imagination and carpeted royally with velvet moss from dead trees. One of these sisters, Mrs. Gillespie, resides at Irvine.

It is a satisfaction to Mrs. Aronson that for the next 30 years, at least, happy children will play where she played and that her former home will echo young voices.

To go to Warren in those days was not a matter of 15 minutes pleasant driving. It meant fording the river in summer or driving across an ice bridge in winter. Spring and fall when the river was high, the narrow road over the hill to Pleasant township was used when it was unavoidable. Mrs. Aronson recalls that her father went over the bank on a load of hay on one occasion.

The site of Mrs. Aronson's former home, which is now the local Girl Scout camp, has an interesting story. Part of a grant to General Irvine in recognition of his service on the staff of General Washington, the tract of 1200 acres stayed in the same family until it was deeded back to the government upon the death of Admiral Staunton in the early 1930's, when it became part of the Allegheny National Forest.

Five families have lived in the Homestead. Following the Petersons, Mr. and Mrs. Aronson lived there for two years, followed by three Nelson families, John Nelson, Pete Nelson, and Christ Nelson. During the days when the Warren Men's Camp was in operation, the house was used as an administration building. The N.Y.A. operated a camp for girls there for a brief period, after which it stood idle for two years. In June, 1939, the Warren County Girl Scouts leased the camp from the Forest Service. They have since held a camping session each summer as well as using the camp for week-end and overnight camping spring and fall.

During the period in which the camp was being tried out to see if it fitted the needs of the Girl Scouts, it has been leased on a year-to-year basis. Last spring, when it became evident that the time had come when a large capital outlay must be made, the 30-year lease was decided upon.

Mrs. Aronson's contribution to the history of the camp site as well as those of other residents will be made into a booklet by the local Girl Scouts.

Five Entries Represented At Meeting Held In Titusville

Postponed games will be played as Saturday double-headers. Clean sportsmanship will be stressed and any player ejected from three games by officials will be banned for the season.

An arbitrary board will handle all disputes. It will consist of one representative from each team.

A president, secretary, treasurer and other officials, including members of the arbitrary board, will be elected at the league's next meeting to be held in Titusville March 17 at 2 p. m. A schedule also will be adopted at that time. Each team will be allowed to offer the name of one candidate for president.

Five teams—representing Titusville, Oil City, Meadville, Warren and Corry—have signed up and Moose backers of the organization are negotiating for a sixth. They are confident of having the other entry by the next meeting.

Moose officials stress that the league is to be a community project and must have the full support of the towns and outlying districts involved. Out-of-town teams will dress for games, for instance, in Titusville at the Y. M. C. A. And other towns are making similar plans. All league meetings after the circuit gets under way will be held in Y. M. C. A.'s in the various entry towns.

At Friday's meeting Bob Bevilheimer and Ed Gebhardt represented Meadville. Minnie Rosequist and Joe Gardner represented Warren. Cy Young and Art Roof attended for Corry. Art Snyder and George Perry are Oil City's representatives. A host of Titusville Moosers, particularly Ralph Osborn and Walter Thompson, are active for Titusville.
